Council Oks Higher Budget, Buys Back SAIDC Tract

By LYNN BROWNE
City Council Tuesday night approved a budget for 1965 of $1,050,708 and, in a surprise move, passed an ordinance repurchasing the former Smith Well Field site from the Salem Area Industrial Development Corp. at a price four times greater than the city sold it for a year ago.

The record '65 budget calls for $362,900 for the general fund, which this year contained $336,849.

The fiscal measure now goes to the County Budget Commission for approval.

Other figures in the '65 budget show $218,566.47 for the water fund, $142,081 for sewer revenue and $95,200 for the income tax fund.

The city's annual appropriations, to come later, will be based on the budget.

The well field legislation, as written, buys back an improved

60.81-acre industrial tract which is situated in the western part of the city along the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks for $20,933.

City Auditor Helen Coyne criticized the "hurry-up" legislation, and termed as untrue a statement by Councilman Michael Schuller that money has been set aside in the capital improvement fund for purchase of the former well field.

"There has been no money set aside," she said. "And, in my opinion this is another case of using income tax money for something of inconsequential value. Some day someone is going to ask to be shown what is being done with our income tax money and we don't have anything to show except a few patched streets," she remarked.

The auditor also pointed out that the city already has $10,486.56 in the project. She said that amount has been spent for clearing land for storm sewers, a project which she says would not have been done at this time if it hadn't been for SAIDC.

Therefore, if the city does repurchase the land at the stated price, it will have put a total of $31,420 into the land and only have gotten a nominal $5,049 or $100 an acre out of it.

The land was sold to SAIDC after the corporation exercised its option on the property on Sept. 19, 1963. The sale price was $5,049, of which $100 has been paid.

SAIDC decided to buy the property when it learned the Armor Co. was interested in the land as a possible site for a $10-12 million plant which would employ about 800 persons.

SAIDC exercised its option so that the tract could be "dressed up" in time for showing to Armour officials the first week in

Mikoyan New President of Soviet Union

Relieved Brezhnev Being Groomed for Khrushchev's Post

MOSCOW (AP)—On the recommendation of Premier Khrushchev, Leonid I. Brezhnev was relieved today of his post as Soviet president and Anastas I. Mikoyan was elected to succeed him.

Khrushchev told a meeting of the Supreme Soviet, the Soviet parliament, that Brezhnev is needed for full-time work in the Communist party.

The party is the seat of real power in the Soviet Union and Brezhnev is regarded as Khrushchev's heir-apparent.

Khrushchev said he wanted "to express my cordial gratitude to Leonid Ilyich Brezhnev for his fruitful work" as president. Brezhnev held the figurehead position for four years.

Mikoyan, who was relieved of his post as a first deputy premier, was wished success by Khrushchev.

Mikoyan said in the crowded hall where Russian tsars once were crowned that "I will do my best to justify your confidence, to fight, to work for the victory of communism together with you."

Handshakes All Around
There were then smiling handshakes all around but none of the hugging and kissing that marked Brezhnev's appointment.

Fatality Toll Increases on Ohio Turnpike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A dark cloud overshadows an otherwise excellent period for Ohio's Turnpike Commission.

There has been an ominous increase in fatal accidents on the 241-mile east-west toll road.

Discussion of the death rate was the only pessimistic note in Tuesday's commission meeting, the last until Sept. 8. Chairman James W. Shocksness noted that the 16 killed in the first six months of this year equaled the death toll for all of 1963.

And he expressed additional concern with the news that there have been two more turnpike traffic deaths since the first of

Lisbon to Vote On School Levy

Board to Put 4-Mill Tax on Fall Ballot

LISBON — The Village Board of Education Tuesday night voted to place a new 4-mill operating levy on the ballots of the fall election.

The board took the action after a discussion on the 1965 budget during which it was brought out that the school system would be in the red $43,455 at the end of this year.

The levy, if approved, would yield an estimated $48,000 annually for five years.

Lisbon voters last November rejected a proposed 3-mill operating levy by a vote of 734-1,017. The levy was similar to one also voted down by the village in May 1963.

The board passed the 1965 budget which would provide for expenditures of $541,983, about $2,663 more than estimated receipts of $515,320.

A breakdown of receipts include $194,240, real estate taxes; $44,310, personal property tax; $273,770, foundation fund; $500, state reimbursements; and $2,500, miscellaneous income.

Expenditures listed were $34,840, administration; $354,098, instruction; $9,200, coordinate salaries; $6,850, library; $19,600, buses; $53,130, auxiliary; $60,190, operation; and $4,075, maintenance.

Opposes Rights Plank Change

Ohio Vote Dashes Scranton's Hopes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ohio didn't have too many big moments Tuesday in the marathon session of the Republican National Convention, but its biggest one was something of a stunner.

That was when former U.S. Sen. John W. Bricker stood up to cast all 58 Buckeye votes against a proposed change in the GOP civil rights plank of the 1964 platform.

The unanimous vote came at a dramatic moment in the convention's first roll call.

It shot down the hopes of the forces of Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton just a few moments after those hopes had been buoyed by a substantial favorable vote from New York.

The Ohio vote on the first convention roll call was important in three ways:

—It made it plain that Scranton could hope for little or no help from his Ohio neighbors in today's big test for the presidential nomination.

—It made it plain that the Ohioans are satisfied with the civil rights plank as originally written.

—It was a solid vote of confidence in Rep. William McCulloch, veteran Republican congressman from Piquette, Ohio, a chief author and manager of the civil rights bill which recently made its way through Congress and is now on the nation's lawbooks.

McCulloch, although suffering a severe case of laryngitis, appeared briefly before the convention in support of the Republican civil rights plank he helped prepare.

McCulloch, a former speaker of the Ohio House of Representatives, argued the Scranton-backed amendment "really adds nothing in substance" to the rights plank.

He said the plank provides for "full implementation of the federal civil rights law, is clear in meaning and is fully constitutional."

"This is an excellent plank and I hope you will reject the amendment as it should be rejected."

Since the amendment was the announced showdown issue between the Scranton forces and

Cross-Country Runner Takes Break In Lisbon

A South African who is attempting to "run" the distance between Los Angeles and New York took a breather in Lisbon Tuesday.

Don Shepherd of Johannesburg, about 45, jogged into a village drug store about 1 p.m. for hot tea. The heavily suntanned man was wearing a track suit, and white tennis shoes and carrying a small pack on his back.

Shepherd said he had left Los Angeles May 12. He declared he runs between 9 and 13 hours daily.

The South African says he is not sponsored by any organization and doesn't have any particular reason for attempting to accomplish the feat — apart from the fact that it's never been done before.

Rolls Toward First-Ballot Nomination

Senator Expected To Top Rep. Miller As Running Mate

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater piloted his thundering campaign jet toward a first-ballot presidential nomination today after bombing out opposition to a GOP platform he personally endorsed.

With the Arizona senator's forces in complete command, the Republican National Convention Tuesday night rejected by overwhelming margins efforts of supporters of Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton to amend a platform on which Goldwater said he would be satisfied to run against President Johnson in November.

Reject Scranton Proposal

Most significant of the actions was the 897-409 vote by which the sometimes noisy and milling delegates rejected a Scranton-backed proposal to amend a plank which promised implementation and execution of the Civil Rights Act.

Sen. Hugh Scott, Pa., acted for Scranton in what could only be regarded as a last-gasp effort to provide some oxygen for the governor's fast-expiring challenge to Goldwater for the presidential nomination.

Scott proposed a substitute which would have added a pledge for enforcement of the new law—against which Goldwater voted—by an increased Justice Department staff. It also proposed invoking the 14th Amendment to reduce congressional representation of states which disenfranchise some citizens to vote.

The vote by which delegates battled down this proposal seemed to indicate that when they get around to choosing their nominee tonight Goldwater might exceed the necessary 655 count before the first call of the states even was completed.

An Associated Press survey showed that Goldwater headed into nomination day with 805 votes while Scranton had 169.

Scott, who engineered the losing platform fight, said there would be "no turning back" so far as Scranton is concerned. He predicted the governor will

Ohio Edison, Union Plan Talks Friday

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Contract talks are set for Friday between representatives of Ohio Edison Co. and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers in an effort to settle a strike in seven Ohio cities.

Federal mediators will participate in the negotiations, as they did in a three-hour session Tuesday.

Some 380 employees walked off their jobs Tuesday in Lorain, Elyria, Sandusky, Alliance, Mansfield and Marion. Another 110 struck in Warren Tuesday night.

The company said the walkout would not affect maintenance of power because no power plant employees are in the union. The union represents linemen, substation and appliance servicemen.

Ratification meetings are scheduled Thursday by locals of the Utility Workers of America on a new contract reached Monday night. The two-year pact, retroactive to July 1, calls for wage increases ranging from seven to 12 cents an hour in each year, plus improvements in vacation benefits and working conditions.

The company's contracts with both unions expired June 30 and members had been working on a day-to-day basis.

Assistant Principal Named

Teachers Hired At West Branch

The West Branch Board of Education Tuesday night hired an assistant principal for the high school, named three other teachers and accepted the resignations of four instructors.

Richard Garra, mathematics teacher at Alliance Junior High School since 1957, was hired as assistant principal at a salary of $7,500. Garra, who also has his master's degree in education from Kent State University, assisted with the administration at the Alliance school.

Also employed were Miss Vicki Brown, junior high English; Mrs. Barbara Wallace, fourth grade; and Mrs. Dale Laskey, third grade.

The resignations of four teachers were accepted and a leave of absence was granted to a fifth.

Submitting resignations were Richard Stoffer, guidance personnel, to accept another position; Thomas Beers, junior high social studies, who accepted a position in another school; Llewellyn Thompson, biology teacher and assistant coach, who is going to Leetonia; and John Mensch, elementary principal at Knox School, who is going to Tallmadge School as principal.

Mrs. Neva Greenamyer was granted a year's leave of absence.

In other business, the board adopted a school budget for 1965 as follows: General operating fund, $1,103,402; bonds retirement, $179,377; operation of lunchroom, $93,000; and permanent building fund, $41,521. Last year's figures were as follows: Bond fund, $1,087,500; lunchroom, $89,000; and building fund, $595,000.

Bids were accepted for milk, gasoline and oil. The Purity Dairy of Westville was awarded the milk bid at five and one-half cents per pint for white milk and six cents per pint for

Food Is Taken At Joseph Less Market

An unestimated amount of meat, cheese, milk and butter was taken when burglars broke into the Joseph Less Market, located on Alternate Route 14, one mile east of Washingtonville, early Tuesday.

Mrs. Joseph Less discovered the loss when she opened the market at 9 a.m. Tuesday. A window in the rear of the building was broken.

The Columbiana County sheriff's office was called to investigate at 3 p.m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Less said there was no insurance to cover the loss.

4 Injured In Area Traffic Accidents

Minor injuries were received by four persons in separate auto accidents Tuesday on Mahoning and Columbiana County highways.

Hannah Unger, 73, of East Liverpool was taken to East Liverpool Hospital with a bruised nose and a bump on the head when the auto in which she was a passenger went into a ditch on Route 424, three miles south of U.S. 30 at 2:50 p.m. Tuesday. The driver, Ethel Miller, 69, also of East Liverpool, told the Lisbon barracks of the State Highway Patrol that she lost control of the vehicle.

The patrol cited her for speed excessive for conditions.

A Canton woman, Ann Bressi, 48, with a bruised right leg, and a Columbiana motorist, Glen F. Wenger, 21, of Canfield Road, were brought to Salem City Hospital for treatment of minor injuries following an accident on State Highway 14.

The patrol said that the vehicle operated by Dorothy Samay, 38, of Canton made a left turn while northbound on Route 14, three miles south of Route 165 and was struck by the Wenger vehicle at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday. Mrs. Samay was cited by the patrol for making a U-turn.

In another accident, James B. Ludi, 22, of Columbiana, was taken to Salem City Hospital for a lip laceration received when he drove into the rear of an auto operated by Richard Schukert, 35, of Negley which was stopped to discharge passengers on State Route 164 near the intersection of State Route 165 near North Lima at 3:50 p.m. Tuesday.

Ludi was cited by the Patrol

World Racing Toward End, Graham Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The world is racing toward its end, evangelist Billy Graham declared Tuesday night as he compared the present with the time just before the Biblical downfall of ancient Israel and the flood which covered the world.

"Not only do I have the word of God that there will be an end but I have the word that Noah never had—the word of the greatest scientists today," Graham told an estimated 30,000, the largest crowd of his 10-day Ohio Crusade, now half over.

He quoted an unidentified scientist as saying it is now possible to destroy all civilization in six hours.

Graham said the Bible says the second coming of Christ and the end of the world will come when things are as they were in the day of Noah. As in that time, he said, there now is much divorce, emphasis on sex, worldwide lawlessness, war, hatred, greed and bitterness.

"The reason God doesn't come in judgment this very night is because he loves you and he is giving you a chance to turn from your sins," he asserted.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: What can I do about a shut-in friend who holds her telephone like a club, holding me a prisoner in my own home as many as three times a day?

I want to be kind to this woman because I know she is pathetically lonely. I do all I can for her, including bringing new friends to her home to fill her empty hours. But the more I give, the more she demands.

I find myself becoming increasingly resentful because this person can find happiness only if her mouth is open. Hints don't help.

Is there anything I can do to get her to cut her calls to one a day? She is a little unstable and I don't want to upset her. Thank you.—BUNION ON MY EAR LOBE.

Dear Ann: A woman who is so inconsiderate of your time that she would telephone you three times a day is more than "a little unstable"—she is a tyrant.

Telling her to limit herself to one call a day will not help. You will have to compose a cut-off sentence, write it out and have it handy by the phone. (Sample: "Sorry I can't talk now. I'm running.") When she calls a second or third time, spiel it off in a breathless voice and run.

Dear Ann: My mother raised me to believe I was beautiful, brilliant and that I should make a spectacular marriage. Somehow I changed signals on her and married the only man I ever loved. Of course he was the man she hated most.

We did not have the grand wedding mother had dreamed of because Dick's parents were not elegant enough and they might pick up the wrong fork at the wedding dinner. We were married in the minister's study and mother wept all through the service. After the ceremony she told me I had broken her heart by making such a poor marriage and that she didn't want to see us again. Dick and I moved out of town.

That was two years ago. Last night my aunt called to tell me mother is not well. I asked if mother had asked her to call. She replied, "no."

Dick is urging me to go home. Should I?—THE DISAPPOINTMENT.

Dear Dis: Take Dick's and my advice. You should go home. And soon.

One of Many

Dear Ann: Recently someone asked you how you spotted the phony letters. Well, even though you think you are smarter than everybody in the whole world put together I'd like to know that you make plenty of mistakes.

I wrote to you about a very serious problem two months ago. It had to do with a neighbor's dog. I've been watching the paper every day since I wrote to you but my letter has not been printed. So you see you can't spot the phonies after all. — VANCOUVER.

Dear Van: I receive more than 25,000 letters a month. An amazingly small percentage of these letters are phonies. I can permit only 21 letters a week, so if a letter doesn't make the newspaper it doesn't mean I passed it up because I didn't believe it was on the level.

Anyone who wants a personal reply in the mail can get one by sending me a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Better than that I can't do, Bub.

COMPLEXION CARE
Pardon me, madam, but your skin is showing—and even more than ever during this season of the year. Complexion beauty doesn't stop at the neckline. Attention must also be paid to arms, legs, back and shoulders. If they are to attract admiring glances. Your feet, too, are showing. The impression left by them on beach and boardwalk can be attractive if they are as carefully cared for as your hands. Foot beauty depends on cleanliness, a little daily care and a weekly pedicure. Why not place all of your beauty care in our capable hands. We are expert in the field and invite you to keep regular appointments with us.

Shoe On the Other Foot

Everything is supposed to be fair in love, war and politics. But a harshly phrased letter from Gov. William W. Scranton to Sen. Barry M. Goldwater strained the supposition to the breaking point.

There are limits even to political excess. In the judgment of many delegates to the Republican National Convention, the Scranton letter exceeded the limits. Gov. Scranton, himself, when he realized how many Republicans had been offended by the letter's intemperate tone, let it be known he was not the author.

That would have been bad enough, but when it later was hinted that he might not have read the letter either, the episode left a bad taste. If a matter of his much significance in the Scranton campaign to stop the Goldwater nomination drive could happen without the central figure's direct knowledge, who was pulling the strings?

Who wanted Sen. Goldwater stopped at a price so stiff it would force Gov. Scranton to admit things had been taken out of his hands?

Was there really among Gov. Scranton's backers as "establishment" as self-willed and ruthless as critics of Eastern influence had been saying it was?

WHEN THE Eastern wing of the Republican party was flapping the rest of the party into submission in the Willie-Dewey — Eisenhower era, protests and objections were consistently shouted down and voted down.

In the end, Eastern influence always was dominant because it was beefed up with important money. But now the center of political influence has shifted from the East to the West. The shoe is on the other foot, when it comes to grinning and bearing it in a political convention. The Western wing is doing the flapping now.

If the letter which Gov. Scranton says he didn't write and may never have seen before it created a sensation in the San Francisco convention is a sample of Eastern reaction, the Republican party is in for a rough time.

IT NEVER OCCURRED to the losers in previous conventions to resort to dirty tactics when defeat was imminent.

They were always supposed to grin and bear it like good sports for the sake of the Grand Old Party, and mostly that's what they did.

Even Ohio Sen. Taft, principal victim of the "establishment," could forgive and forget after his shameful treatment in 1952 and patch things up with Gen. Eisenhower.

It won't be easy to forgive and forget the Scranton letter that Gov. Scranton said he didn't write and may not have read.

Whoever put it into circulation was doing something calculated to split the Republican party. That now appears to have been its purpose.

Victor Riesel is on a news gathering expedition in Africa and Eastern Europe. During his absence his column is being written by leaders in the business, professional, labor and political life of the country. Today's guest wrote the following column on a recent visit to the U.S.

By DR. JOSEF KLAUS
Federal Chancellor of Austria.

VIENNA
Austria has proved its will for self-determination between 1945 and 1955—the era of Allied occupation and economic reconstruction.

In the following decade, from 1955 to 1965, the main task has been to meet the obligations resulting from the Austrian State Treaty, which restored the country's political sovereignty. This was achieved by the end of 1963, when the deliveries of $150 million worth of industrial goods and shipment of 6 million tons of crude oil to the Soviet Union, were completed.

Over the same period, moreover, the Austrian gross national product was expanded by 85 per cent. Now Austria has to meet the challenge that confronts a neutral country in a Europe which, in the West, has most tightly united itself within the framework of the Common Market, while in the Communist bloc the traits of national self-reliance are becoming stronger.

I TOOK the office of federal chancellor on April 2 of this year, at a time when the decision-making capability of Austria was still greatly tested and when the cooperation between the country's two largest parties, which had lasted since 1954, underwent some major trials during the last months.

In my first statement of policy I endorsed the continuation and renewal of the cooperation between the two leading parties, and I'm as much convinced as a coalition which experiences difference of opinion is a therapy of work and action.

In my Statement of Policy I asserted that Austria's foreign policy will, in the future also, be guided by the principle of permanent neutrality.

THE MOST URGENT task of the country's foreign policy is for Austria to settle its relationship with the European Economic Community or Common Market.

Since about half of Austria's exports go to the member nations of the Common Market, all efforts have to be made in order to prevent a limitation of this export opportunity, as already happened and still is to be feared as a result of a steadily growing discrimination against Austrian products.

In view of the country's neutrality and the obligations resulting from the State Treaty, the Austrian government has to pay great attention to the fact that the negotiations with the Six, which hopefully will soon be forthcoming, are going to lead to a satisfactory agreement on the following subjects:

1. Maintenance of a sovereign trade policy.
 2. Establishment of common institutions which will comply with Austria's status under the international law.
 3. Assurance that own supplies will be safeguarded to a certain extent.
- As a member of the Outer Seven, Austria will, as long as the ground rules of the arrangement with the Common Market have not been established, continue to work loyally towards the further progress of EFTA.

THE LONG DESIRED and, since last year, achieved improvements in tourist traffic with Hungary and Czechoslovakia not only helped to re-establish the traditional ties which had been cut during the last few decades but also lead to a confrontation between the different social and political systems on a broader front.

Austria is in this case in a better position than is possible along the Berlin Wall to demonstrate the advantages of Western life to the people of Eastern Europe.

But not only on its foreign policy course is the federal government preparing Austria for its role in the Europe of tomorrow. The domestic issues of my government program were headed by tasks in the cultural field.

The decisive consideration for this was not only the importance which the formation of intellectual potential for economic growth has, but the belief that Austria will have to fulfill a function in the intellectual and cultural life of Europe and the world far above the limitations of a small nation.

Challenge to Austria

Never Off the Ground

A coincidence in timing brought Republican criticism of the Democratic administration for developing no new missile systems at the same time the Department of Defense was letting Project Pluto slip down the drain.

The Department of Defense was notified on July 1 by a spokesman for the Atomic Energy Commission that the commission was abandoning attempts to develop a low-flying, atomic-powered missile because no military interest had been shown.

In a New York Times report on the notification it was pointed out that insiders thought the decision had been made by Secretary of Defense McNamara. If so—and under any circumstances—it was noteworthy because Project Pluto had been proceeding better than the other abandoned missile projects that have cost hundreds of millions of dollars without any results.

Pluto was to have been propelled by a compact atomic reactor that would power a ram-jet engine capable of developing a speed of 2,000 miles an hour. Because the missile would have been capable of doing this at low altitudes it might have been the answer to the anti-missile missiles that the Soviet Union says it has developed. With global range and little possibility of detection, the Pluto had attracted enthusiastic interest by both the Navy and the Air Force.

All the preliminary work had been done. The missile was ready for flight tests. But the AEC, having carried through the preliminary work much more successfully than has been the case with most missiles, wanted assurance that the Department of Defense was interested before going ahead.

The Department of Defense showed no interest.

It was a coincidence that it showed no interest when the Republican party was looking for campaign issues.

Seems Likely

Baseball buffs are still replaying the All-Star Game and football fans are starting to talk about the new gridiron season.

Professional football players are beginning to practice openly. Semipro are doing it clandestinely and amateurs are body-building, with an occasional football thrown around to remind them of life's forthcoming realities.

Not only do baseball and football now elbow each other for attention in July, but in the Adirondacks, where such things go on routinely, basketball players stay sharp for a season that will start halfway through the football season.

This blending of sports is a growing thing. Indoor track has crowded outdoor track into oblivion. Ski slides are built indoors and slicked down with artificial snow outdoors.

It is only a matter of time until all games, excluding golf, which is less a game than an exhibition featuring man vs. himself, will be played the year round. Covered ball parks will make baseball feasible in midwinter, football in midsummer and basketball, of course, is feasible anywhere that two "peach baskets" can be hung on facing walls.

The Board's Proposals

The Board of Education has acted wisely, we believe, in separating its four special propositions to be placed before the voters Nov. 3, rather than wrapping up the proposals in one package.

Although it is entirely possible that voters will sanction the $815,000 construction bond issue, approve a new 7.5-mill operating expense levy, renew an existing 2.5-mill operating levy and OK a new 2.5-mill "pay-as-you-go" levy, the board's decision does give the electorate a choice.

There is no question that additional rooms eventually will be needed at the Senior High School and that sale of the bonds, if approved, will bring in sufficient funds and, with school operating continuing to require more and more funds, the board must fall back on the time-honored method of assessing costs through special real estate tax levies. The "pay-as-you-go" levy will permit the board to create a reserve fund for future commitments, a sensible venture that should have been tried years earlier because it would effect savings in the long run.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
SAN FRANCISCO — This is the convention in which the pot calls the kettle black.

Originally the spokesmen of Gov. Scranton accused Sen. Goldwater of accepting the support of "extremists." But now it's the other way around.

For Gov. Scranton has just furnished an example of "extremism" almost unprecedented in the history of party conventions.

He wrote a letter that was so bitter and so full of innuendoes that Sen. Goldwater decided not to answer it, and actually returned it. But the letter produced a bitterness and resentment in the atmosphere of the convention which doesn't bode well for the party.

SUCH ATTACKS might have been understandable, politically speaking, if Gov. Scranton were aiming at Democrats, but to distort and misrepresent the other fellow's position in one's own party just isn't political cricket.

If anything were calculated to impair Gov. Scranton's future at this or any other convention, it is his mistake in the letter he made public late Sunday night.

In some quarters it is believed the Pennsylvania governor himself couldn't have written such an intemperate attack on a personal friend and that, in his emotional excitement over events here, he signed something prepared for him by ill-advised advisers.

ONE BY ONE Gov. Scranton's pieces of strategy are falling down. His demand for certain platform planks has failed. In fact, the Republican platform is far more dynamic and contains a better balanced set of planks than was thought possible a month ago.

The platform, which is supported strongly by the Goldwater people, removes many misunderstandings and disposes of misrepresentations about the Arizona senator's real beliefs. Indeed, many Democrats could say the principles are logical and well balanced, but they would differ as to just how such principles would be implemented and as to the man best qualified to carry them out.

HERE, for example, are some of the Republican planks on foreign policy:

"A dynamic strategy aimed at victory — pressing always for initiatives for freedom, rejecting always appeasement and withdrawal — reduces the risk of nuclear war.

"It is a nation's vacillation, not firmness, that tempts an aggressor into war. It is accommodation, not opposition, that encourages a hostile nation to remain hostile and to remain aggressive.

"THE ROAD TO PEACE is a road not of fawning amiability but of strength and respect. Republicans judge foreign policy by its success in advancing freedom and justice, not by its effect on international prestige polls.

"We are opposed to recognition of Red China. We oppose its admission into the United Nations. We steadfastly support Free China.

"In negotiations with Communists, Republicans will prove tirelessly for reasonable, practicable and trustworthy agreements. However, we will never abandon insistence on advantages for the free world.

"REPUBLICANS support the United Nations. However, we will press for a change in the method of voting in the General Assembly and in the specialized agencies that will reflect population disparities among the member states and recognize differing abilities and willingness to meet the obligations of the charter.

There isn't anything in the platform to bear out the "extremist" charges that recently have alleged that Sen. Goldwater is anxious to break up the United Nations or that he wants to start a nuclear war.

SMALL WONDER that European newspapers whose editors have been reading such distortions have been so critical in the pre-convention weeks.

But there isn't a single piece of evidence in any of the various platform planks now adopted or rejected which has borne out such "extremist" concepts.

Sen. Goldwater is making substantial progress toward winning the nomination because he is acting in a dignified way and like a political veteran.

In desperation, spokesmen for the opposition are behaving impulsively, like juveniles, and are losing ground.

It looks now as if the Goldwater nomination will come on the first ballot and that even some of the dissenting delegations will move to make it unanimous.

BUT, WHEN all is said and done, the Republicans will find that some of the misrepresentations made in their own party fight will have been given credence by many voters and that the task of setting them right will be correspondingly more difficult.

It hasn't been a happy convention for the Republican party.

Today In History

Today is Wednesday, July 15, the 197th day of 1964. There are 169 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1779, Brig. Gen. Anthony — "Mad Anthony" — Wayne led four regiments of his Light Corps in an attack just before midnight on Stony Point, the fortified British-held key to the important crossing of the Hudson River. Only one of three columns had loaded guns. The other two only bare bayonets. The surprise attack on the rocky promontory succeeded; by 2 o'clock Wayne, wounded in the head, held the fort.

On this date In 1606, the Dutch painter Rembrandt was born.

In 1870, the last of the Confederate states, Georgia, was readmitted to the Union.

In 1918, America forces attacked the Germans at Chateau-Thierry.

Also in 1918, the second battle of the Marne began.

In 1945, President Harry S. Truman reached Europe on his way to the Potsdam conference.

Ten years ago . . . American airlines was air-lifting food and other supplies to Puerto Rico as a dock workers' strike entered its fourth week.

Five years ago . . . A general strike was started by the steelworkers' Union, halting 85 per cent of the nation's steel production.

One year ago . . . The United States, Britain and Russia opened the Moscow conference on a proposed nuclear test treaty.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY
Then Jesus said to him, Put your sword back into its place; for all who take the sword will perish by the sword.—Matthew 26:52

There is no such thing as an inevitable war. If war comes it will be from failure of human wisdom.—Bonar Law.

Balky Eastern Satellite

By DARIUS S. JHABVALA
NEW YORK — The Romanian delegation has been quietly drummed out of the East European clique at the United Nations as penalty for Bucharest's show of independence from Moscow.

Like the Albanians, who have long been ostracized for siding with the Red Chinese, the Romanians have been excluded from private caucuses of the Soviet satellite group and are publicly cold-shouldered by their East European colleagues.

The caucus sessions are held periodically at the various Communist missions in the city to discuss bloc strategy and set the party line for unified action on important matters before the U.N.

None of the delegation officials will say just when or why the switch on Romania took place. But none will deny that Bucharest is now being treated as an outcast.

ONE EAST EUROPEAN, actually maintains that the Romanian delegation has "boycotted" the bloc meetings. But others have hinted broadly that the Romanians have simply been kept in the dark about the time and place for caucuses.

When one Romanian was asked about this, he admitted quite candidly: "The Bulgarians don't talk to us, the Russians don't tell us anything."

But ostracism has not fazed his delegation. "We have our own programs and we want to be friends with all—including the Western countries," he explained, with special tonal emphasis on the latter.

The first indication that Moscow had another balky satellite on its hands came when Romania refused to accept its allotted role in the Communist Bloc's Council for Mutual Economic Assistance—mostly to provide other members with raw materials.

THE ROMANIANS had other ideas, designed to build up their own country's industrial power. So strong was their opposition to the Soviet plans that last July their delegation walked out of the economic council's meeting.

In the months since then, the Bucharest regime has moved quickly to establish economic ties with Western countries. Last month, for example, a Romanian trade delegation to Washington got an agreement for U.S. aid in building a synthetic rubber plant, a rolling steel mill and a fertilizer plant.

The same delegation also discussed plans for increasing cultural exchanges and raising the level of diplomatic representation between the two countries.

A similar mission is planning to visit Paris, Bonn and Brussels this summer.

A FURTHER BLOW to Moscow's prestige followed when the Romanian delegation to the U.N. World Trade and Development Conference sought closer ties with the Western-dominated General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT).

As Romania's new economic dealings with the West have been more in evidence, the political breach with Moscow has also widened in the past six months.

At a General Assembly meeting in December, Romania was the only Communist country to vote with the West on the question of denuclearization in Latin America.

Similarly, officials now point out that at the 17-nation disarmament conference in Geneva, Romania more frequently sides with the eight neutral nations than with Czechoslovakia, Poland, Bulgaria and the Soviet Union, the Communist members of the conference.

ROMANIA'S "neutrality" in the Moscow-Peking ideological split, which has become more pronounced since the April meeting of the Central Committee of the Romanian Workers' (Communist) party, is a source of chagrin to the Soviet Communist hierarchy.

The ostracism of Romania at the U.N. is undoubtedly at the behest of the Soviet Union. But there is some doubt that it will have any positive effect.

Cost of Dreaming

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Sidewalk comments of a pavement Plato: The price of dreaming is going up, up, up! It costs much more to dream now than it used to.

Inflation, that bane of our workaday life, has now also invaded the world of the imagination in which, through fantasy, we achieve all our goals.

To get what he wants from his dreams, a daydreamer finds he must spend much more mythical cal money than did the day-dreamer of a generation ago. This is true of both kids and adults.

As a child, I dreamed of finding a nickel, a dime, or—in a really expansive mood—a quarter. To dream of finding a quarter was to spend a wild afternoon in Valhalla.

That gigantic sum would buy five big sticks of penny licorice, a nickel ice cream cone, a nickel sack of popcorn, and a dime ticket to the Saturday afternoon movie.

To a modern child, being actually given a quarter is hardly a dream situation. It wouldn't get him very far. To spend a delicious afternoon, such as I dreamed of in childhood he'd have to have well over a dollar.

Grownup dreams are getting even more high-priced. This doesn't bother some people. They are spendthrift dreamers. They are printing-press-money dreamers. Whatever they dream they'd like to have or do, they dream up the money to buy it—and never mind the cost.

For years my dream goal was to live like a millionaire.

To do this I figured I'd have a small steam yacht for world travel, a penthouse on Park Avenue, a well-staffed mansion in the country, a racing stable, a hideaway villa on the French Riviera, a couple of limousines, a few racing cars.

Naturally, there'd be a dozen or so servants around. A man can get awfully tired of opening his own champagne bottles day after day.

Well, it was a lovely dream and it kept me happy for years. But now it is smashed to smithereens. I made the mistake of confiding my dream to a friend who is expert in tax and financial matters.

"How much money do you think it would take you to live the way you think a millionaire lives?" he asked.

"Why, a million dollars," I replied.

He laughed. "You must be kidding. Anybody with only a million dollars who tried to live like that would wind up panhandling on the Bowery in less than six months."

"You'll have to upgrade your dreams. What you need is $25 million to $50 million—and even then you might have to cut down on your racing stable, and keep your yacht in drydock part of the year."

He left me crushed. Who at my age wants to have to suddenly boost his dream fortune from a million dollars to $25 million or so? It is hard to do. It isn't worth it.

Somebody is always taking the fun out of life. And inflation is taking a lot of the fun out of dreaming. A fellow can hardly afford it anymore.

MISS LINDA GROMLEY, bride-elect of Walter Hall, was honored with a miscellaneous bridal shower July 7 by Mrs. Rod Halverstadt and Mrs. Harold Kerestes, sisters of the groom-elect. The event was held at the home of Mrs. Tom Buckius of Franklin Rd.

Mrs. Edward Gotthardt of Leetonia received the special prize.

Decorations were in a pink and white theme with pink roses and a centerpiece of a three-tier cake baked by Mrs. Halverstadt. Twenty guests were in attendance.

Miss Gromley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gromley of RD 1, Kensington, and Mr. Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hall of Bank St., will be married at 2:30 p.m. July 25 at the First Methodist Church.

QUOTA PINS were given to Mrs. John Ivan and Mrs. Nettie Iler, membership chairmen, when Salem Eagles Auxiliary 316 met Monday. It was announced that the auxiliary met its quota last year.

Mrs. Sadie Doyle, Mrs. John Ivan and Mrs. Earlin Yeager gave reports on the recent state convention at Cincinnati when Mrs. Yeager was re-elected state auxiliary treasurer and Mrs. Dale McCormick of Leetonia was elected vice president.

Plans are being made to assist with the Eagles picnic Aug. 30 at the Saxon Club.

Mrs. Doyle and her committee served lunch to the 27 members present. Next meeting will be July 27 when guests from the Youngstown auxiliary will be Mrs. Betty Abbott, membership chairman of district eight, and Mrs. Veronica Williams.

SALEM CHAPTER 94, Royal Arch Masons, will hold its regular scheduled meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday with Alex Ferko, presiding. A social hour after the meeting will be in charge of Ray Stockton.

SIX PRIZES were won by horses owned by Gilberts Greenhouse Farms in competition Sunday at the annual horse show at Erie, Pa.

Miss Pamela Gilbert, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Gilbert of the Damascus Rd., won the amateur walking horse class with "Spirit of Go Boy" and also won third place in stallions and geldings class and third place in stake.

"Go Boy's Sandman," ridden by Miss Cathy Kauffman of Avon, won fifth place in stallions and geldings, fifth place in walking horse, amateur rider and sixth place in stake.

Over 300 horses competed in the show.

PLANS ARE being completed for a reunion of Salem High School's class of 1944, to be held Aug. 15 at the Salem Elks home. Reservations must be made with Mrs. Leroy Green of 953 Franklin Ave. by Aug. 1.

Helping to organize the reunion are Frank Entrikin, Mrs. Richard Boughton, Mrs. Green, Mrs. Robert Zeck, Mrs. Earl Miller, Paul Englert and Mr. Mrs. Richard Greene.

THE ANNUAL Yeagley and Benner reunion will be held July 26 at Benner's park at Sebring.

TWENTY EIGHT PERSONS were in attendance when members and guests of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Bunker Hill Methodist Church met Thursday at Island Creek Park at North Benton for a picnic. Hostesses were Mrs. Clarence Weingart and Mrs. Martha Naylor, assisted by Miss Miriam Coleman and Miss Lori Beck.

Following dinner, Mrs. Sara Coleman and Mrs. Lester McCrae presented devotions which included Scripture reading and excerpts from "Streams in the Desert" and "Morning and Evening." Miss Cindy Martig and Mrs. Philip Carl entertained with several accordion solos, followed by a knitting demonstration by Miss Coleman.

Mrs. Coleman closed the program with two poems, "Let Us Make the Best of the Present" and "The Ways," after which Mrs. Alfred Martig presided at a short business meeting.

DESCENDANTS OF Philip Casper Bowman will hold their annual reunion July 25 at Diehl Lake in Ellsworth. Mrs. Emily Baunach is president and Mrs. Marian Goist of North Jackson is secretary. A picnic will be held at noon.

PERFECT FOR SPORTS OR DRESS OCCASIONS—stretch comes into its own this year. For boating, tennis or bicycle riding, this one-piece play suit (left) was designed by Ruthann Tuttle of Mr. Gee. The stretch fabric of rayon and cotton fits smoothly and bounces back into shape after each wearing. The gentlewoman look fashioned in this evening costume by Scassi (center) is ankle long. Matching coat swings loose in front. The molded gown dips low in the back. Sleeves and bow are white organdy. Made of nylon and wool stretch fabric, it fits the figure smoothly and moves when you do. Donald Brooks' dramatic design (right) is cut to the floor and sleeveless. The overblouse highlights the new batwing silhouette. These costumes were created for American Enka's designer collection.

Anita Nulf Is Bride In E. Fairfield Church

Miss Anita Lee Nulf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Nulf of Signal, became the bride of Leonard Grant Magill, III, son of Mrs. Marian Magill of Lancaster and Leonard G. Magill, Jr. of Mundelein, Ill., at a double-ring ceremony performed at 3:30 p.m. Saturday at the East Fairfield Methodist Church.

Rev. I. Melville Wohrley, pastor of the church, officiated. The altar was banked by twin vases of mums, delphiniums and fern. Miss Eileen Grim of East Fairfield presided at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a sheath dress of white chiffon over satin with a bouffant shoulder veil. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, stephanotis and orchids. Miss Sue Ann Nulf, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, wearing a dress of green eyelet over satin and carrying a bouquet of yellow mums.

Brian Riehle of Columbus served as best man.

An open reception followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nulf. Sprays of flowers tied with yellow bows, trimmed the crystal candelabra holding yellow tapers on each side of the three-tier cake at the bride's table.

Hostesses were Miss Mina Malon of Columbus and Misses Saunie Morris and Barbara Sherer. Miss Sherry Anne Megill of Lancaster was in charge of registering the guests.

The new Mrs. Magill is employed as an IBM operator with Westinghouse Electric Corp. in Columbus, where her husband is also employed.

Following a brief wedding trip, they will make their home at 135 W. Mulberry St., Lancaster.

County 4-H Youth To Attend Camp

Columbiana County will sponsor the stay of two outstanding 4-H club members at the annual state 4H conservation camp Monday through Saturday at Camp Utica in Licking County, according to Robert Lewis, county extension agent in 4H.

They are Dorothy McCoy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross McCoy, Lisbon RD 5, and Tom Sanor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sanor, Salem RD 1.

During the week the club members, under the guidance of the state 4-H staff and college-age counselors, will take part in a variety of activities designed to develop an appreciation of the importance of conservation. One of the counselors will be Linda Converse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curney Converse, Leetonia RD 2.

4-H'ers attending the Ohio 4-H conservation camp will participate in a workshop that will include boys and girls from each of the 88 counties in the state. They will receive instructions in developing a farm and home conservation plan, water safety, proper use of rainfall, study of soils, and many other soil conserving practices.

Also included in the camp will be a trip to the Coshocton hydrological station and the Mohawk Dam and floodplain.

The sponsor for this trip is the local soil conservation service, Lewis said.

4-H Demonstration Contests Scheduled

The Columbiana County 4-H demonstration contests will be held next Tuesday in the fellowship hall of the Salem Christian Church.

The contests will begin at 2:30 p.m. for junior contestants and 7 p.m. for senior contestants.

The winning teams and individuals in agriculture, foods, clothing, and miscellaneous classes will compete at the Ohio State Fair in the state contests, according to Robert Lewis, county extension agent in 4-H work.

Judging this year's contests will be Mrs. Paul Gipp, RD 2, and Mrs. John W. Benson, 2225 Edgewood Drive, Salem, Floyd Lower, Lisbon; Mrs. James Clendenen, Hanover RD 1; and Mrs. Janice Hanna and Mrs. Dale Rumberg, Alliance.

Exact spot of Moses' burial place is unknown, but is probably upon Mount Nebo.

7 In Mahoning Facing Contempt Charges July 27

YOUNGSTOWN — Renewed contempt of court proceedings against seven of 34 men jailed briefly for refusing to answer questions before a special crime - investigating Mahoning County Grand Jury were filed yesterday.

County Prosecutor Clyde W. Osborne said the men must appear before Common Pleas Judge Sidney Riegelhaupt at 9:30 a.m. July 27 to show why they should not be sentenced for contempt of court.

Osborne charges them with refusal to answer specific questions late in 1963 and 1964. He said the questions now are unimportant, but the court will decide whether the witnesses were in contempt because they had they appeared before the Grand Jury.

Judge Riegelhaupt had ordered the 34 to jail until they purged themselves of contempt by answering. None did. The Seventh District Court of Appeals held that the court order was no longer in effect because the grand jury had been dismissed.

The seven are Stephen Bajonok, John Burnich, Paul Holovach, Frank Lentine, Vincent Plato, Dominick Senzerino Jr., and Patsy Bucciolli.

Osborne said he would file charges against the remaining 27 later.

Akron Council Okays Fair Housing Measure

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Opponents of Akron's new fair housing ordinance are expected to seek a referendum in the November elections in an effort to wipe the ordinance off the books.

Mayor Edward O. Erickson signed the ordinance shortly after it was passed by an 11-2 Council vote Tuesday, but he indicated he thought the measure would not survive a referendum.

The Akron Board of Realtors was meeting to discuss the situation while Council was acting on the legislation, introduced four months ago by Edward J. Davis, Democrat, Akron's only Negro councilman.

Monday the realtors took a full-page ad in the Akron Beacon Journal, stating their belief that the matter "should properly be decided by a vote of the people. The ad said councilmen were being "threatened and pressured to pass a forced housing ordinance now" and called on residents to contact their councilmen to make their views known.

BOY KILLED BY TRUCK

CLEVELAND (AP)—Eight-year-old Charles R. Goddard was pulling his wagon to the grocery store on an errand for his mother in Strongsville when a tractor-trailer rig swerved across Royalton Road, hit the boy, carried him about 100 feet and drove him through a board fence, killing him instantly.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Manza Goddard of suburban Strongsville, said after the accident Tuesday that Charles had been given the wagon instead of a bicycle, "because we thought he'd get hurt" with a bike.

Motorists Fined, Forfeit In Lisbon

LISBON—Two motorists were given $5 suspended fines Tuesday by County Judge Jame S.L. MacDonald for traffic violations, four were fined a total of $30 and costs, and six forfeited bonds totaling $125 when they failed to appear for scheduled hearings.

Receiving suspended fines were George R. Miller, 74, Minerva Rd 2, failure to yield the right of way, and Donald K. Hines Jr., 36, Minerva, cutting in too soon after passing. Each paid $6.50 costs.

Fined were Leslie E. Blackburn, 21, Salineville Rd 1, $5, and his license was suspended for 10 days, passing without the assured clear distance; Paul L. Buttram, 23, Lisbon Rd 3, $5, and license suspended for 10 days, speeding; John W. Lewis, 26, of 637 Aetna St., Salem, and Cyril E. Lees, 57, of 336 E. Lincoln Way, each $10, speeding.

Leaving bonds were Harry L. Carlson, 55, Rockford, Ill., $15, speeding; Wallace Saunders, 23, Dellroy, $25, reckless operation; Walter R. Kintner, 44, Columbus, $25, making U turn on highway; Ronald Edwards, 27, Canton, $20, failure to stop within assured clear distance; Roy Jones, 60, Fredericktown, $20, passing traffic on curve, and Donald L. Dorson, 21, East Orwell, $20, passing traffic at intersection. All were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

No Quorum, State Board Fails to Act on Bus Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—After two days of talking, the Ohio Board of Education was unable to take any action on a plan to centralize school bus purchases because of lack of a quorum.

As a resolution recommending adoption of the regulation was being read Tuesday, Robert A. Manchester of Canfield, a critic of the purchase plan, slipped out of the room. His departure left only 14 members of the 23-member board present, one less than the number required for business.

As a result the board was forced to adjourn, leaving until its Sept. 14 meeting action on the controversial plan. There was seven hours of testimony Monday and much of Tuesday's session was devoted to the plan. This was the first two-day meeting the board has held in four years.

The much-debated plan would set a single low bid for purchase of school buses with state funds. Under the present system, school districts eligible to receive funds from the state are governed by a ceiling price established by the Ohio Department of Education.

With the failure to act on the plan, the board authorized State Supt. E. E. Holt to continue to process school bus requests on an emergency basis, as was done during the last school year.

BURGLARS GET $50

LISBON — An estimated $50 in change was stolen early this morning at the Blue Top Restaurant on Rt. 30, northeast of East Liverpool, according to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan. Mrs. Edith Anderson, a waitress, reported the burglary at 3:30 a.m. today when she came to work.

Deputy Dave Brothers, who investigated, said the intruders cut the screen in a screen door to gain entrance. They then broke into the juke box and cigarette machines. John C. Sultz, the owner, estimated the loss.

Mississippi School Boards Submit Integration Plans

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Two school boards have submitted plans to a federal judge to desegregate first grade classrooms in the fall, signaling the end of Mississippi's holdout as the last state without school integration below the college level.

A third board was expected to join the school systems of Jackson and Biloxi today in telling U.S. Dist. Judge Sidney Mize how it would obey his desegregation orders.

Deaths Funerals

Mrs. John Joseph

LISBON — Mrs. Ida B. Joseph, 86, of Lisbon RD 2, died Tuesday at 10:30 p.m. at the Nursing Home in Wellsville where she had resided for three years.

Born Feb. 22, 1878 near Guilford Lake, a daughter of George and Elizabeth Thomas Storey, she lived her entire life in Columbiana County. Her husband, John Joseph, died in 1946.

Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Mayme Morningstar of Lisbon, and several nieces and nephews.

Services will be held Friday at 1:30 p.m. at the Henry Funeral Home by the Rev. Fred A. Shiltz. Burial will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday from 6 to 9 p.m.

Edwin Ebersole

LEETONIA — Funeral services will be at 10:30 a.m. Thursday in Goshen, Ind., for Edwin Ebersole, 90, father of Rev. Allen Ebersole of the Mennonite Church, who died Tuesday morning at Orrville Hospital where he had been a patient for the past week.

He had resided with his son at Leetonia for eight months before going to the Rittman Home at Rittman two years ago.

In other business the board appointed Charles Powell of Lisbon RD 5, as principal at Lincoln School to succeed John Lewis, who resigned to go to Tallmadge. Powell has been a teacher at Lincoln School for the past six years, last year teaching 7th and 8th grades. His salary was set at $6,657.

The board also hired Mrs. Mary Horner, West Point, as elementary teacher. She formerly taught at Beaver Local School and is concluding her work for her degree this summer at Youngstown University.

Miss Linda C. Kent of East Palestine also was hired as elementary teacher. She has a cadet certificate from Youngstown University and this will be her first position.

Resignations were accepted from Lewis, Cristina Zipperian of Poland, who taught second grade at McKinley, and Howard Johnson of Boardman who will teach in the Youngstown school system.

The board adopted two mathematics textbooks and approved application for reimbursement for Title III funds from the state in the amount of $194.16.

Members discussed teacher needs. At present, the school system has vacancies in industrial art, math, social studies and first and second grades.

Supt. Oliver Payne presented letters from the Lisbon Ministerial Association and St. George's Catholic Church requesting use of school buildings for religious meetings. The letters were read by Dr. Wade Bacon, president.

Supt. Payne discussed his summer work program in the schools and reported that Dr. Bacon has donated two recorders and a transcriber to the high school to be used in the commercial department. He also discussed his efforts to secure teachers for the coming term.

Bills of $37,872.65 were ordered paid.

The board's next meeting will be Aug. 11 at 7:30 p.m.

Boy, 2, Hit By Car In Damascus Lot

DAMASCUS — Donald McAbier, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James McAbier, who live at the Bayless Trailer Court, was treated and released at 10 p.m. Tuesday at the Alliance City Hospital for mild contusions which he received when he was struck by a car at the trailer court.

Salem Gives $1,800 In Fund Drive

Salem has contributed $1,800 to date in the mental health drive being conducted by the Columbiana County Mental Health Association.

George W. Wyer, vice president, reported that approximately $6,000 has been collected to date throughout the county.

Other community contributions are: East Liverpool, $800; East Palestine, $1,000; Wellsville, $300; Columbiana, $500; Salineville, $255; Leetonia, $175; Lisbon, $148; West Point, $120; New Waterford, $194; and Summitville, $25.

Rural areas are under the direction of Charles Morlan and the county granges and Mrs. Evelyn Hoopes and the Farm Bureau Women's Councils. Partial report of the rural area collections shows: Hanover Township, $279; Knox Township, $301.75; Winona area, $27; Kensington area, $167; New Waterford area, $194; Greeley Grange, $53; and Unity Grange $15.

All area chairmen are urged to complete their drives and turn their money in by the end of July.

Dr. Jakobs Knezniskis, director of the Mental Health Clinic at Lisbon, reports that 21 new patients were treated at the clinic during June, 19 cases were terminated and treatment of 45 patients was carried over into July.

Anyone interested can obtain informative programs by contacting the Mental Health Clinic in Lisbon.

U.S. Protests Slapping of Officer By East German

BERLIN (AP) — The U.S. Army says it has lodged a "strong protest" with Soviet authorities over the slapping of an American officer by an East German border guard.

The officer, who was not identified, followed standing instructions and did not retaliate, an Army spokesman said.

The apparently unprovoked incident Sunday outraged American officers in West Berlin.

The Army spokesman said the officer was riding in an Army sedan in East Berlin when an East German border patrol halted him nearCheckpoint Charlie.

The patrol told the American and his companions to leave the area. The officer protested that they were not in a restricted area and had not violated any traffic rules. One of the East Germans reached his hand through the car window and struck the officer.

backers of front-running Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, the McCulloch plank weathered the storm handily.

Interviewed a few hours before the big floor test, McCulloch declined to say whether he was one of the 42 Goldwater supporters voting in the secret caucus Monday of the Ohio delegation.

The congressman asserted the new federal civil rights bill is the best in a quarter-century.

"There has been a lot of platform talk in demagogic ways in recent years about civil rights, but we finally have something down in writing as the law of the land," he said.

Asked what impelled him to become a civil rights leader from his largely rural western Ohio home base, McCulloch put it simply:

"Just say it's a Scotch Presbyterian conscience on a moral issue."

ment to the presidency May 7, 1960.

Later, Mikoyan, Brezhnev and Khrushchev sat together on the platform, apparently joking as the parliament continued its business.

Mikoyan, 68, a Bolshevik who has been at the top of the Soviet leadership since early in the Stalin era, looked solemn before his transfer to the presidency. He has been a confidant and international trouble-shooter for Khrushchev.

He wore a single medal on his dark blue suit. This is unusual for Mikoyan, who normally does not display his many Soviet honors.

Khrushchev had his usual five medals on his light blue suit. Brezhnev, a squarish looking former steelworker, left his medals at home.

Three Vocational Training Levels Stressed In Talk

William C. Dunton, vocational supervisor of the Warren public schools, discussed "A Unique Approach to Vocational Education" when the Salem Rotary Club met Tuesday at the Memorial Building.

Dunton depicted three levels of vocational training as follows:

One for the gifted student or student able to do superior work, in which many extra assignments in math and science are given; the normal high school approach to various subjects offered in the vocational field, such as agriculture, home economics, drafting and machine trades; and distributive education, a unique approach regarding students who are potential drop-outs for gainful employment in an area where they may fit in and be of useful service to society.

He stated that Warren has a special high school which in school and a three-year senior high school in which boys and girls get training in many areas where they may find gainful employment in the Warren area.

The success of this program has been outstanding in the whole country to the extent that statistics show that there are less than half as many dropouts occurring now during the junior high and senior high periods.

H. W. Cameron, director of the Salem Technical School, introduced the speaker.

this month.

"The answer I do not know," he said, citing engineering factors of the road and other safety precautions taken. "Human beings have to do something about protecting themselves."

Shocknessy and State Highway Director P. E. Masheter generally were jubilant about settlement of a heavy construction equipment operators' strike. Each played a part in avoiding a major highway construction tie-up.

Commission Vice Chairman O. L. Teagarden of Oak Harbor reported sales of $991,558 at turnpike restaurants in the past month, up $41,971 over a year ago.

Four overnight parking facilities for travel trailers have brought an enthusiastic response since June, Research Director James D. Hartshorne reported.

BEATLE BUYS HIDEAWAY

LONDON (AP) — John Lennon of the Beatles has bought a $56,000, 20-room hideaway in the country to get away from his fans — "wonderful as they are."

The leader of the rock 'n' roll quartet said he, his wife, Cynthia, and their infant son will move into the home soon.

Location of the home is a closely guarded secret.

October. SAIDC said at that time expressed a desire that the city pay for the improvement in the land, but it noted that the city would have to go through a lot of time — consuming "red tape" which would not have enabled the work to be completed in time.

Previously Agreed

SAIDC said it expected to spend about $10,000 in improving the land and an "Unofficial" understanding was reached by Council and SAIDC that the city would repurchase the land at a higher price, covering the cost of improvements, if the firm did not buy it.

The measure passed last night states that Council deems it advisable and generally conducive to the best interests of the city to purchase the land. It also notes that SAIDC is financially unable to keep the land and pay for the improvements.

Also included in the ordinance is a re-purchase option to SAIDC for five years which would enable it to buy 50.49 acres of the tract — leaving about 10 acres for street right-of-ways — at a price of $15,894.

Solicitor Tom Coe pointed out that the reduction in price in the option to SAIDC is because City Engineer Barckhoff estimates the amount of improvements done to street right-of-ways at about $5,000.

In other action, Council passed a measure amending a previous ordinance abolishing the parking meter fund and transferring its revenue into the general fund.

The original ordinance, which Mayor Dean B. Cranmer refused to sign, claiming the money would lose its "identity" in the general fund, had to be amended because the amount of money in the parking meter fund was approximately $8,000 less than originally thought, because Auditor Helen Coyne had invested part of the funds in street improvement bonds.

After several members of Council expressed concern over the money possibly being "lost" in the general fund and their arguments were parried by proponents of the measure, Mayor Cranmer signed the original ordinance, tossed it onto the solicitor's desk and said in disgust: "There, I've signed the ordinance, you guys can dissolve the fund and spend it."

Primary concern was expressed by Jack Rance and Joyce "Willie" Wilson that if the city decides to build a new municipal garage, it may possibly lack the funds to do it.

Charles Gibbs assured them that money in the general fund which has not been appropriated to any use, cannot be spent without Council authorizing the spending.

President Ford J. Septh Jr. urged Wilson, who is chairman of the public buildings committee, to have his committee make a recommendation on a new city garage as soon as possible.

Last night Council gave three readings to measures concerning improvements to Howard Ave. and W. 5th and Wilson Sts., and then tabled the ordinances until the next regular meeting next Tuesday.

Measures regulating holidays and vacations for municipal workers were also left on the table until a later date. Council requested that all department heads report on vacation and holiday procedures currently in use.

Eisenhower Rips Press In Address

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An attack on the press by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower evoked one of the most feverish, spontaneous demonstrations at the Republican National Convention Tuesday night.

The demonstration came during a convention session that also saw the removal of John Chancellor, a correspondent for the National Broadcasting Co., from the floor of the Cow Palace.

During his address to the convention, Eisenhower urged Republicans to "scorn the divisive efforts of those outside our family, including sensation-seeking columnists and commentators, who couldn't care less about the good of our party."

This brought a roar of applause and pulled cheering delegates to their feet. There were shouts of "More, more."

But Eisenhower did not elaborate, and he did not name the columnists and commentators he had in mind.

Chancellor was escorted from the floor by police after he refused to clear the aisles.

The correspondent was interviewing members of the Alaska delegation when a sergeant-at-arms asked him to leave. Chancellor refused, and police removed him.

The incident was viewed by millions for Chancellor covered it on television as he was taken from the Cow Palace.

Later, Chancellor was allowed to come back into the convention hall, and he interviewed the sergeant-at-arms who had ordered him to leave. They shook hands after the interview.

for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Richard Poppel, 42, of RD 2, Salem, was cited for driving left of center when he struck an auto driven by James D. Rice, 55, of RD 2 Leetonia, on the Depot Rd., two miles north of Route 172 at 5:35 p.m. Tuesday.

Minor auto damage ensued when an auto parked by Mary Alice Lorden, 42, of Alliance, drifted into a parked auto operated by Russell Hestand, 48, of Sebring at the Hippity Hop Restaurant on U. S. 62.

Bills Exceed City's Street Fund Total

City Auditor Helen Coyne reported to Council last night that the street repair fund has a cash balance of $2,178, with outstanding bills for April, May and June totaling $14,152.74.

The auditor, in her written report, noted that a cash balance of $6,117 was on hand at the first of the year, with receipts for that fund so far this year totaling $56,385, giving a balance of $62,503.29.

Expenditures listed include $25,901 for payrolls; $22,261 for maintenance and supplies, payment of a $10,000 bank loan (which was included in the above receipts); interest on the loans, $14; transfer to adjust a previous audit, $16; plastic strips for crosswalks, $336; street paint, $1,000; and for electricity used in operating traffic signals, $792.

Farm News

Joyce, Jersey Champion

Her name is Joyce. She has brown eyes and a beauty all her own, and yesterday she became the new all-time, all-ages United States milk champion of the Jersey cow breed.

Joyce — her full name is Challenger's Joyce — is owned by Anthony J. Regli of Green Valley Jersey Farm, Fern-dale, Calif.

The executive secretary of the American Jersey Cattle Club at Columbus, James Cavanaugh, said Joyce was milked three times a day for 365 days, beginning July 12, 1963.

The milking, supervised by University of California officials, produced 26,364 pounds of milk containing 1,200 pounds of butterfat. The previous record-holder, since 1957, Marlu Milady of Marlu Farms, Lincroft, N. J., produced 24,619 pounds under similar conditions.

Joyce's record equals 12,262 quarts. Cavanaugh said this would supply a family of five with a quart apiece each day for 80 months.

Goldwater

go down to the halloing wire, despite the obvious odds against him.

At one point Tuesday, Scranton said: "It isn't so much a question of whether we win as that we demonstrate to all America that there are persons in our party who do feel this way."

Goldwater, commenting through an aide on the developments, said: "The Republican convention is reflecting the conservative majority in the Republican party."

As matters stood, it was the consensus of his associates that Goldwater would tap Rep. William E. Miller of New York, the GOP national chairman, as his vice presidential running mate. Miller had strong support from New England, Illinois, North Carolina, Arkansas and Mississippi delegates.

The Arizona senator was expected to pick Denison Kitchel, his campaign director, as national chairman to succeed Miller.

In a session lasting past midnight, the convention rejected a total of five proposals to amend the platform and delegates shouted their approval of the draft.

Two amendments dealt with what their sponsors called political extremism, two were in the field of civil rights and a fifth was aimed at Goldwater's suggestion that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization commander be given more supervision over the use of small nuclear weapons to repel attack.

The vote on the civil rights plank was immediately met by a long-planned demonstration of civil rights groups.

Twenty civil rights demonstrators sat down in the turnstile of the Cow Palace's main exit, forcing the delegates to turn and push their way to side exits.

Police stood close to the demonstrators, and there were no scuffles between the gate blockers or their nearby picketing friends and the delegates. The delegates were able to get out of the Cow Palace through the side exits in 15 minutes.

Mrs. Barry Goldwater, wife of the expected presidential nominee, occupied a front-row box seat at the then-quiet convention while former President Dwight D. Eisenhower addressed the delegates.

Eisenhower, given an ovation, urged the Republicans to avoid factional strife and renew their strength "from the fountain of unity."

There was a roar of applause when Eisenhower condemned "Sensation-seeking" newspaper columnists and commentators. He urged the delegates to ignore their "divisive efforts."

Responding to cries of "more," Eisenhower described such columnists and commentators as people "who couldn't care less about our party."

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who will introduce the presidential nominee, told a news conference Tuesday that Goldwater had moved "from the status of the senator from Arizona to the position of the nominee of his party—and it could happen tomorrow."

Scranton said that no matter what happens he will support the Republican ticket actively in November.

But he said he didn't think it would be "helpful to our party" to take second place on the ticket.

Scranton refused to repudiate a savagely worded attack on Goldwater in a letter sent from his headquarters to the Arizona.

"It is true that I did not write it and did not see it and did not sign it," Scranton said. But he added that since it was prepared by his staff, "I do not disavow responsibility for that letter."

The letter accused Goldwater of advocating irresponsible actions and his managers of treating convention delegates like "a flock of chickens whose necks will be wrung at will."

SUMMITVILLE MEETING

SUMMITVILLE — Village Council will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday at the township hall, with Mayor Ernest Phillips presiding.

Beaver Boosters Make Plan For Horse Show

Plans for the Beaver Booster Club's horse show July 26 were outlined when the club met Tuesday night at Beaver Local Public School.

Mrs. George Gaydos said the event will start at noon at the public school grounds. Karl Hines of Polk will be the judge.

More boys are needed to park autos and for other tasks, she said. Booster Club men will meet July 25 at 10 a.m. to erect benches and booths for the event.

Theodore Taylor, new high school principal, opened the meeting. There were 16 persons present to hear the report on the horse-pulling contest and discussion on whether to make the contest an annual event. Bills of $201.76 from the contest were approved and paid.

James McLaughlin, who presided, opened the membership drive which has a goal of 1,000. Leslie Jones co-chairman for the auction to be held Aug. 8, said more articles are needed. They may be left in the new part of the public school building during weekdays.

The Booster fair will run from Sept. 23 to 26. Mrs. Warren Bradley and Mrs. Gaydos will serve as co-chairmen for the queen contest in conjunction with the fair. Girls from different schools in the area are expected to enter the contest.

Next meeting of the club will be July 28 at 7:30 p.m. at the public school.

With Patients

Bill Stack of RD 4, Salem, is a surgical patient in Youngstown North Side Hospital and is improving.

Miss Karen Fowler, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fowler of RD 1, Columbiana, is in "fairly good" condition and Darwin Peters, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Peters of near North Lima, is in "fair" condition at Salem City Hospital where both were admitted at 10:45 a.m. Tuesday following a traffic mishap at the intersection of Route 164 and South Range Rd., just southwest of North Lima.

Harold DeRoads of 710 Olive St. has undergone surgery at St. Elizabeth Hospital in Youngstown.

Four persons were treated Tuesday at Alliance City Hospital for injuries received in separate miscellaneous accidents.

Alfred Fryfogel, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Fryfogel of RD 2, Beloit, lacerated his right knee when he fell in the driveway at home. He was treated at 9:40 p.m.

Floyd Moreland, Jr., 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Moreland of Homeworth, lacerated his forehead when he fell and struck his head on a piece of farm machinery. He was treated at 6 p.m.

David Scott, 18, of RD 2, Beloit, was treated at 11:40 a.m. for a dog bite on his left foot.

Cranberry Juice For Salads

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Cranberry juice in a summer aspic salad? Oh, yes! Times change and our menus steadily get more interesting. Try this ham and chicken aspic sparked with cranberry juice cocktail. Good.

HAM AND CHICKEN ASPIC

A LA CRANBERRY
(Makes 1 9x5x3-inch loaf)
3 tablespoons (3 envelopes) unflavored gelatin, 4 cups cranberry juice cocktail, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 6 drops Tabasco, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 small onion, grated or very finely chopped, 1 cup diced cooked ham, 1 cup diced cooked chicken, 1 cup finely chopped celery.

Soften gelatin in 1 cup cranberry juice. Stir over low heat until gelatin is dissolved. Add lemon juice, vinegar, Tabasco, onion and remaining cranberry juice. Chill until thickened. Fold in remaining ingredients. Pour to a 9x5x3-inch loaf pan and chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with crisp salad greens, radish slices, and strips of cucumber if desired. Serve with Cranberry Sour Cream Dressing.

CRANBERRY SOUR CREAM DRESSING

(Makes about 1 1/4 cups)
1/4 cup sour cream, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1/4 cup cranberry juice cocktail.
Combine all ingredients and mix well. Chill.

Cooking Is Fun

DUTCH SALAD

5 or 6 slices bacon, cooked and crumbled, 1 small head lettuce, coarsely chopped, 1 medium onion, finely chopped, 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped, 1/2 cup cider vinegar, salt and pepper to taste, hot seasoned mashed potatoes (use 6 medium).
Toss together the bacon, lettuce, onion, eggs, vinegar and salt and pepper. Mix with the potatoes. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

CHILE CON CARNE

1/4 cup butter or margarine, 2 medium onions, finely chopped, 1 pound ground lean beef chuck, 1 can (1 pound) red kidney beans in sauce, 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce, 1 large clove garlic, crushed, 1 tablespoon chili powder, 1/4 teaspoon ground cumin.

In a 10-inch skillet in the hot butter, wilt but do not brown the onions. Add beef; mash with a fork over moderate heat until meat crumbles and changes color.

Add beans with their sauce, tomato sauce, garlic, chili powder and cumin. Cover and cook gently, stirring several times, for about 30 minutes.

Makes 4 servings. The amount of chili powder given should bestow a slight "bite;" use less or more if desired. The kidney beans used in testing this recipe came with water, sugar, salt, spices and flavoring.

VIENNESE CHOCOLATE CAKE

1 chocolate cake layer baked in a round 8-inch layer - cake pan, 1-3 cup apricot preserves, 1 tablespoon brandy, 1/2 cup heavy cream, Chocolate Frosting.

Slice the cake in half crosswise to make two layers. Mix the apricot and brandy. Whip the cream until stiff; fold in the apricot mixture. Spread over one cake layer; top with other. Cover top and sides with chocolate frosting. Refrigerate until

Yankees Climb Near Top Again, Edge Orioles 4-3

Bombers Only 1/2 Game Back

Pizarro Wins 13th;
Chisox Top Senators

By DICK COUCH

The trouble with the Baltimore Orioles is they can't win those one-run ball games.

The trouble is only three days old but it's beginning to tell on the pennant-hungry Orioles. They dropped a 4-3 decision to New York Tuesday night in the opener of a vital three-game set and saw their American League lead dwindle to one-half game over the onrushing Yankees.

The Orioles suddenly have lost their touch in pressure games after reeling off 21 victories in their first 23 one-run contests. They were beaten twice by Detroit—each time by a 4-3 score in 10 innings—before Mickey Mantle, Tom Tresh and Al Downing collaborated for Tuesday night's Yankee victory before a New York crowd of 38,102.

Stu Miller, the wily junkman of the Baltimore bullpen, was the victim of eighth inning hits by Mantle and Tresh that broke a 3-3 tie and gave the Yankees their fifth straight triumph. Downing weathered a ninth inning storm and won his fourth in a row with a six-hit effort.

Elsewhere in the AL, Juan Pizarro became the league's first 13-game winner as Chicago topped Boston 4-2; Washington nipped Minnesota 4-3; Detroit beat Los Angeles by the same score and Cleveland outlasted Kansas City 9-7.

Mantle lined a single off Miller, making his 38th appearance in relief, with one out in the eighth. Mickey moved to second on a groundout and tallied the deciding run on Tresh's bloop hit to right.

Baltimore had tied the score in the seventh on two walks and pinch hit single. The hit was Johnson's sixth straight as a pinch swinger, topping the AL mark previously shared by Johnny Mize, Vic Wertz and Bob Hale.

The Orioles scored single runs in the fourth and fifth innings. The Yankees dunched three of their six hits around a walk and infield out for three fourth-inning runs.

Baltimore loaded the bases with two out in the ninth on two passes and Luis Aparicio's infield hit but Downing got Norm Siebern on a fly to Mantle for the final out.

Pizarro held the Red Sox to five hits, including Dick Stuart's 18th homer, for eight innings and ran his record to 13-4 with last-inning help from knuckleballer Hoyt Wilhelm.

Run-scoring hits by Ron Hansen and Gerry McNertney gave the White Sox a 2-0 bulge in the second inning and they added a pair of unearned runs in the third.

The Senators snapped a 3-3 tie in the fifth on Ed Brinkman's single, a two-base throwing error by Minnesota pitcher Jim Kaat and an infield out. Claude Osteen survived Harmon Killebrew's 32nd homer, a two-run shot, and picked up his seventh victory.

Detroit won its 12th game in 15 July starts, scoring the deciding run in the eighth on Gates Brown's double and Don Demeter's single. Demeter also homered and Bill Freehan collected three of 10 Tiger hits.

Home runs by Leon Wagner, Tito Francona and Woodie Held pushed Cleveland to a 7-3 lead over Kansas City but the A's fought back to tie in the eighth when Dick Green and Rocky Colavito homered and Ken Harrelson hit his second circuit of the game. Held's run-scoring single and Dick Howser's squeeze bunt won it for the Indians in the ninth.

Cardinals Deal Dodgers 8-7 Setback; Bucs Nip Phils 4-3

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Ron Perranoski, the Dike-Pluggier of the Year in 1963, apparently has run out of fingers. One victory shy of the .500 mark and one out from reaching it, the defending world champion Los Angeles Dodgers were beaten Tuesday night on a two-run pinch-hit single by Bob Skinner that capped a four-run ninth inning uprising and gave the St. Louis Cardinals an 8-7 victory.

And once again Perranoski, who last year at this time was standing National League batters on their ears en route to a 16-3 record, wound up standing under the showers. The 27-year-old left-hander put down one uprising in the eighth, but failed in the decisive ninth.

Walks to Curt Flood and Dick Groat and a single by Ken Boyer gave the Cardinals a run and when Perranoski ran the count on Bill White to 3-0, out he came. Bob Miller completed the walk, Mike Shannon bounced Skinner slapped his game-winning hit.

The loss was charged to Perranoski, who has made 36 appearances this season and been in 24 losing games while compiling a 4-5 record with a mediocre 3.52 earned run average. Last year at this stage, he had made 34 appearances and been in 18 winning games with a 9-2 record and a brilliant 1.80 ERA.

The victory was the fifth straight for the Cardinals, who in five days have chopped 3 games off their deficit and climbed to within 7 games of front-running San Francisco in the tightening NL pennant struggle.

The Giants went down to an 8-7 defeat at Milwaukee as the Braves rode home runs by rookie Rico Carty and veteran Eddie Mathews to their 12th victory in the last 17 games. The Giants, however, retained their one game lead over Philadelphia, 4-3 losers at Pittsburgh.

Third-place Cincinnati closed to within 5 1/2 of the top by sweeping Houston 6-5 in 11 innings and 10-3 and Chicago Cubs defeated the New York Mets 4-2.

Sandy Koufax, seeking his 10th straight victory and 14th of the season, started for the Dodgers and batterymate John Roseboro helped build a 5-0 lead by driving in three runs with three singles.

But home runs by Shannon and White cut the deficit before the Cardinals struck for two runs in the eighth and chased Koufax as Manager Walt Alston waived in Perranoski to plug the dike.

Carty and Mathews slugged their homers in the sixth inning as the Braves bombarded 12-game winner Juan Marichal for five runs. After Mathews connected, Marichal made his second error of the game, walked two men and was tagged for a two-run single by Joe Torre that wrapped it up.

Mathews' homer, his 12th this season, was No. 434 of his career and broke a tie with the Giants' Willie Mays for eighth place on the alltime list.

Cal McLish, who had been on the disabled list, made his first start for the Phillies and failed to survive the first inning as Manny Mota smacked a single, Roberto Clemente doubled and Jerry Lynch singled.

Leading 2-0, the Pirates won it in the fifth by pushing across two more runs on an infield hit by Mota with the bases loaded and a grounder by Roberto Clemente that drove in winner Bob Veale.

The Reds scored three runs in the opener on wild pitches, two on consecutive heaves by Larry Yellen and the third in the 11th when Hal Woodeshick uncorked a wild one with the bases loaded that let in the deciding run.

The second game proved much easier against the Colts as the Reds slugged 16 hits, including homers by Frank Robinson and Mel Queen.

Dick Ellsworth won his 11th for the Cubs, despite a five-error third inning that enabled the Mets to score their only runs.

The Chicagoans pulled it out in the seventh with a three-run uprising on doubles by Dick Bertell and Andre Rodgers. Billy Cowan's triple and a single by Joey Amalfitano. Ernie Banks' homer accounted for the first Cub run.

Entries Due July 25 For County Softball

Deadline for entries and the drawing for the Columbiana County softball tournament are set at Kelley Field July 25 at 9 p.m.

Ten teams have indicated they would enter the event. Last season's champion, Old Dutch, is bypassing the classic to concentrate on defending its district title in that competition which gets underway here Aug. 9.

The county winner and runner-up, along with a host team will advance to district competition.

Six city teams, two from East Liverpool and a couple from Minerva have shown an interest in competing in the county tourney.

Interested persons wanting to get their squads in the annual event should contact tourney director Jim Harrigan at Damascus.

Palmer, Nicklaus, Lema Are Favorites In PGA Tourney

By JIM BECKER

Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Arnold Palmer wants to win. Jack Nicklaus must win. Tony Lema doesn't much care.

That's the story of the three favorites in the 46th PGA tournament which opens here Thursday over the Columbus Country Club course.

Add U.S. Open champ Ken Venturi, who says he is ready to climb off cloud nine and get back to work. Throw in Gary Player, who is putting again. Remember Billy Casper, who has a cold—a dangerous sign. He plays best when he's hurting.

And that's the chalk talk for the tournament, last of the Big Four in golf. A winner from outside those six would come as a big surprise, although there are plenty in the field who could do it.

All the top pros are here for the annual family party, including such greats as Ben Hogan, Sam Snead, Vic Ghezzi and old Denny Shute, last man to win the PGA two years in a row. That was 1936-37.

Palmer wants this one badly. It is the only big one he has never won. He predicted it will take a score of 272, eight under par for the 34-36-70 course, which measures only 6,851 yards, short for these days.

Nicklaus, a Columbus boy who has not won a big one this year even though he is the leading money winner with some $81,000.

This is his last chance to get into the World Series of Golf, which he won the last two years. Palmer, the Masters winner; Lema and Venturi are already in.

Lema, who staved off a great challenge by Nicklaus in the British Open, said "I don't think I can get up for another big one so soon, but who knows? I'm in a trance. I don't practice. I just hit the ball. Everything I'm doing is right."

And Venturi, who took the Open to end three years of heartache and despair, said "I can't see anything but the flag. Somebody asked me why I keep shooting at the flag. I told him, 'That's where the holes are.'"

Held, Francona, Wagner Homer Feature Indians Win

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Cleveland Manager Birdie Tebbetts, doing some lineup juggling since returning to duty, may have found the combination for breaking the Indians' slump—and the combination includes the names Held, Francona and Wagner.

Woodie Held, Tito Francona and Leon Wagner all hit home runs against the New York Yankees Monday night in a losing cause. They repeated Tuesday night as the Indians edged the Kansas City Athletics 9-7.

It was Held's run-scoring single in the ninth that broke a tie after the Indians blew a four-run lead over the Athletics.

Wagner and Francona collected three hits apiece and Held two, but they weren't the only ones hitting. Leadoff batter Dick Howser and No. 2 man Vic Davalillo each had four hits in six at bats.

Bob Chance's slow bouncer in the third drove in the first Indian run after Davalillo bunted safely and Wagner rapped a double. Francona's single scored another run.

Two more scored in the fourth on Held's walk, Howser's double and Davalillo's single.

While the Indians were building their margin southpaw Sam McDowell blanked the A's over five innings. But Ken Harrelson's three-run homer in the sixth put Kansas City back in the game.

Wagner and Francona hit homers in the seventh, and Held hit his in the eighth to stretch the Cleveland lead.

The Athletics erased that margin with three homers and a double in the bottom of the eighth, after Gary Bell relieved McDowell in the seventh. Dick Green, Rocky Colavito and Harrelson hit the home runs.

John Wyatt, the A's ace reliever, started the ninth by walking John Romano. Chico Salmon and Held hit successive singles to bring in a run, Joe Grzenda relieved Wyatt, and the final run scored on Howser's squeeze bunt.

Don McMahon picked up the victory, his fourth against one defeat, for two innings' work.

Kenst Pitches No-Hitter; Furnace Beats Shaffer 23-2

Ken Kenst turned in his best performance of the season as he tossed a no-hitter and batted Electric Furnace to a 23-2 victory over Shaffer Ford in junior baseball Class F action at Memorial Park Tuesday.

Elks pulled a mild upset as it knocked off Fisher News 7-2. Jim Windram tallied the winning run in the top of the seventh to give VFW a 3-2 decision over Famous Market, and Petrucci's trimmed Knight's of Columbus 7-4 in Class G.

Hobbycraft tallied seven runs in the second inning, then went on to clip Quaker Manufacturing 16-5 in Class H competition.

Kenst hit a three-run home run in the big second inning when Furnace (4-8) put the contest out of reach. The young hurler added three more singles and tallied four times before the game was over.

Mike Owen, Mark Markoski, John McQuiston and Jim King collected two hits apiece. Winning pitcher Kenst struck out nine and walked three. The losers dropped their 10th game in 12 tries.

Key hits in Elks' (7-5) triumph were a triple and two singles by Jim Ciotti, and two apiece by Greg Cline, Charles Price and Bob Brown.

Doubles by Lou Markovich, Rusty Gorby and Jerry Filler featured for Fisher's (9-3).

With two away in the seventh, Windram hit a single and scored on an error for VFW. The winners (5-5) tied the game in the fourth on two errors and a walk.

Famous Market (2-8) took a 2-0 lead in the bottom of the first on an error and singles by Roger Bowman, Tod Chappell and Gary Cosgrove.

Petrucci's took a 5-0 lead in the second against the Knights on three walks, single and doubles by Dan Hippely and Mike Mehno.

Hippely had a triple and single in his other trips to the plate for the winners (7-6).

Dan Russell led Knight's of Columbus (8-6) with a home run and a double. Rick Alexander collected a two-base hit and a single.

National Cleaners (6-8) picked up six runs in the bottom of first to go ahead of Hunt's to stay Four walks, two singles and a double by Dave Shasteen produced the runs.

Dan Steffel, Craig Anderson and Steve Keefe were the only batters on Hunt's Independent Union team (9-4) to get hits.

Hobbycraft (6-7) added eight more runs in the fourth to ice its clash with Quaker Manufacturing (5-10).

Kim Cranmer, the winning pitcher, and Steve Harbert had a pair of hits apiece.

With Rod and Reel

By TOM JAGER

The cool weather earlier this week is putting a damper on fishing at Guilford, Zeppernick and some other district lakes. Although the holiday weekend seemed to be ideal for fishing, it turned out to be a good time for picnics, camping or anything but fishing. This weekend should be a bit better.

Reports from Westville Lakes indicate that fishing there is continuing to be good. Plenty of perch, blue gills and bass have been taken.

GUILFORD LAKE reports again show that crappies are being taken in fewer numbers there. Instead, channel cats, bull heads, bass, walleyes are being taken.

Fishing at Zeppernick is moderate with bass, blue gill and cat fish being taken. Berlin Reservoir fishing is slow. Few walleyes, crappies and white bass are hitting.

Over at Milton Reservoir, fishing is somewhat better. Walleyes in the four to five-pound class are hitting, along with crappies and large mouth bass. Blue gills at Lake Park near Sebring are doing very well.

Salem City Reservoir fishing is fair. Some bass, walleye and blue gill are being taken. Things should pick up this weekend. At Clendening Lake bass, catfish, blue gill and crappies are biting well. Bass caught there have been measuring in at 14 to 18 inches.

Pine Lake fishing is fairly good, with large numbers of pan fish being caught. Blue gills and perch head the list there. Other streams and lakes in the area should be from fair to good for fishing.

SOME DAYS ARE GOOD for fishing while on other days one might as well stay home for all the fish you can catch. Such a day occurred last week Thursday when my father-in-law, Ben Norman of Rockford, Ill., and my brother-in-law Cecil Grisom of Miami, Fla., and I went fishing at Westville.

We started around 10 in the morning and caught our first fish at 11:40. From noon until 3 p.m. we tried our darndest but couldn't bring in any fish. Around 4 p.m. the number of fish we caught increased by five. At 6 we called it quits.

Catches at Westville Lakes: Bob Dundon, third lake, eight perch measuring 11 and 12 inches. Red worms were used to land them. Ralph Cox got 15 blue gills and 12 perch. Mr. and Mrs. Mauer of Louisville caught 30 blue gill on various live bait. Fred Cunin of Alliance got 20 blue gill, using a fly tipped with maggots.

Five-year-old Mark Williamson of Alliance caught a 13-inch perch on a new fishing outfit given to him by his father, Harlan. He could have gotten $5 for the fish at the shop where the father works, but his grandfather, Jim Marshall, cleaned and fileted the fish before it could be cashed in. To make up for it, Harlan caught 24 blue gill using red worms as bait.

Jim Meredith of Alliance landed a four and a half pound bass while trolling from a boat. Phil Williamson got a stringer of perch and blue gill. Carol Lewellyn of Westville caught 10 blue gill and perch.

SURFACE BAITS AT Clendening Lake continue to take bass. The "Five Pound Club" there has 21 members, although no new members have joined the club within the last few weeks. Lures used on the lake sports Add Rod and Reel js SUCCESSFUL FISHING at three impoundments in Division of Wildlife District 3 has been reported by Clayton Lakes, district fish management supervisor. He says that muskies are being taken in deep water in the vicinity of the dam at Leesville Reservoir, Carroll County. Many anglers are trolling with bomber lures.

"Tappan Reservoir, Harrison County, has been producing white bass, some as big as a pound, soft crawls being used by many as bait," Lakes noted. "Anglers trolling with night crawlers are catching big walleyes at Milton Reservoir, Mahoning County." include: a heddon meadow mouse, black jitterbug, poppers and creeme shim shammer.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

Drugs Divided Into 2 Classifications

Anything that improves your health or cures disease has always been looked up as some sort of magic. This difference between the magic of the witch doctor and your family physician is that the latter uses drugs that have been scientifically tested first on animals then on human volunteers. The tests involve large series of persons, control studies with mock pills that have no active ingredient, and careful statistical analysis.

As a result of improved drugs and other medical advances the death rate in the United States has been reduced about 45 per cent since 1900. Two-thirds of all the drugs sold today had not been heard of 25 years ago. The more powerful drugs of today are not, however, without their hazards.

FOR THAT REASON you should follow your doctor's directions for their use precisely. If after taking a drug for a few days you have not improved you should consult your doctor. He may want to adjust the dosage, reassure you that improvement will come, or advise a different course of treatment.

Under the law all drugs are divided into two categories: prescription drugs and over-the-counter drugs. Those that can be legally sold only on a doctor's prescription are so classified for your protection.

Your doctor will base the dosage on your age and weight and the effects desired. For this reason the drug should not be passed on to other members of the family or neighbors who appear to have the same symptoms.

THEY MAY NEED a different dosage or may have an entirely different disease. By the same token, any remnant of your prescription should not be used at some later date when you think you have the same condition without consulting your doctor. The drug may have deteriorated or the symptoms may have a different cause.

Over-the-counter drugs are to be taken only for minor complaints that should normally clear up in a few hours or a few days. Do not use them over a prolonged period without your doctor's knowledge and approval. Above all don't fall for the glowing sales talk put out over radio and television.

FOR EXAMPLE, everyone does not need to take vitamin pills to supplement their diet. Nor is everyone suffering from a deficiency of iron or other essential minerals. Pills to help you lose weight without dieting are a dangerous hoax. Lotion and creams alone will not cure pimples.

These and many other important facts about drugs have been set forth in simple language for you by the Food and Drug Administration in a pamphlet entitled "First Facts About Drugs." It is available from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office (Washington, D. C.) for 15 cents a copy.

Stone Mountain In Georgia:

Still a Rock of Contention

By ARTHUR HILL
STONE MOUNTAIN, Ga. (AP) — It's a piece of exposed granite — the largest in North America, so they call it Stone Mountain.

But the distinguishing, most consistent feature of this bare outcrop of rock is not visible among the stubble of stunted trees and the adolescent beard of moss and wind-clipped grass that covers part of the mountain.

That feature is controversy, for Georgia citizens have spent half a century trying to decide what to do with their 800-foot-high geological oddity.

The latest argument centers on delays and the charges of several legislators of the mismanagement of funds in the construction of a state park to turn the mountain into a tourist attraction.

ELVEN MILLION dollars of a total cost of $15 million has already been spent by the Stone Mountain Memorial Association, a state agency, on the initial group of park projects. This has required an additional $5 million boost from the state legislature to ease some of the associations debt problems.

A 92-unit motel, scheduled for completion July 1, 1963, is still not complete and no one knows when it will be, although the estimated cost has shot from $1.3 million to $1.8 million.

An association spokesman says the motel, a combination of ultramodern and antebellum architectural features, says the building will be ready for the grand opening of the park next spring.

THE GRAND OPENING, by the way, was supposed to have been this year.

"What's held us up, says the spokesman, "is the construction of a bypass for U.S. 78. The highway now runs through the center of the park."

He says the completion date of the motel, now with unfinished walls and courtyard and minus furnishings, will depend on the issuance of a second $5 million bond issue, which Georgia Gov. Carl Sanders has held up pending an investigation.

BUT THE SPOTLIGHT on such items as the motel and the $737,000 museum building on top of the granite slab has not dimmed some peoples enthusiasm.

"I think its good publicity, says Albert Goza, one of the security men at the park. "I believe its better to get any discrepancies fixed up so the people will feel better about it when they come out here."

Receptionist Myrtice Weatherly believes that attendance at the park has been stimulated rather than depressed.

"You can hardly move on weekends, its so crowded, Mrs. Weatherly says.

Whether it is worth $1.60 or not, a recent group of tourists appeared to enjoy their trip on the scenic railroad that runs for about a mile around the base of the mountain. The simulated Indian raids and wild west flavor of the ride went over favorably with the passengers, many of them children.

A HUGE SCULPTURE of the Confederate generals Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson, and the president of the confederacy, Jefferson Davis, carved into the face of the mountain is no more finished now than it was 25 years ago when the bas-outline was visible.

In the past six months, however, scaffolding has been erected for its completion.

Plans for one sculpture or another have been a source of fuel for the Stone Mountain controversy.

The present sculpture was begun more than 25 years ago, but the stock market crash of 1929 cut short an earlier associations source of funds.

ACTUALLY, THE IDEA for a giant sculpture goes back to 1915 when the United Daughters of the Confederacy in Atlanta hired Gutzon Borglum, a famous artist of the time, to carve Lees head into the mountain. He was the one who later created the Mount Rushmore memorial in South Dakota.

Borglum got a guarantee of $250,000 if he completed within three years an expanded mural depicting "the great characters of those days, in action, mounted or on foot, moving across the mountain."

World War I intervened, however, and it was not until 1924 that Lees head was done.

That was all that Borglum got to do as internal squabbles, money problems and political interference caused a halt to the project.

FOR THREE YEARS the sculpture lay dormant until a Virginian, Augustus Lukeman, was hired to complete it. Lukeman dynamited Borglums work off the mountain and began over, finishing his version of Lees head, plus an outline of the other figures, in 1928. The sponsors ran out of funds at this point.

A Gloucester, Mass., sculptor, Walter Kirtland Hanock, has been hired by the present association to finish Lukeman's work.

Killer Squads

S. Viet Commandos Assassinate Red Leaders

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—South Vietnamese government squads, generally operating in stealth at night, have begun a campaign of terror against Viet Cong officials in the Mekong River Delta.

Small teams of commandos, armed with exact intelligence and daggers, are moving into Viet Cong hamlets in critical provinces near Saigon, assassinating key Viet Cong leaders, and slipping away.

They are leaving calling cards on the bodies of their victims—an enormous white eye printed on a black slip of paper.

Officials say the idea is to fight the Viet Cong with Viet Cong tactics.

For years the Communists have terrorized rural government officials, often torturing and slaying their wives and children as well as the officials.

Officials hope ultimately to make Viet Cong-like squads the basic front-line militants against the Communists.

"Everything depends on exact and rapid intelligence in penetrating the Viet Cong secret infrastructure," a U.S. adviser said.

"We're using a lot of new tactics, and some are paying off. One is the use of census teams in provinces we're trying to pacify. After the names of each family in a hamlet have been listed, the census team requires that on member of the family come around to answer a questionnaire once every 15 days.

"The man or woman is asked: Do you have any complaints about local government administrators? Do you need anything in particular? And do you know anything about Viet Cong activity?"

Another American said he felt the campaign of terror against Communist officials was beginning to pay off.

HEADS CAST OF MUSICAL—Jane Morgan, recording artist, stars in the new romantic musical, Tovarich, to be presented, starting Tuesday, by the Kenley Players at Packard Music Hall in Warren.

He observed: "Some of the death squads have been finding a lot of empty beds. The Cong leaders know that squads may come for them on any given night, and they never know when they may get a black eye pinned on themselves. So they're starting to sleep in different places every night and doing all the things our people have been forced to do for years. I don't think it's going to help enemy morale."

TV-Radio Today

By ALAN GILL

I have often heard people who love New York (or London or San Francisco or Paris) say they get the most enjoyment out of their city on a Sunday afternoon in summer. That's when everyone else in town has fled to the seashore or the pine woods and the exhaust fumes from automobiles have faded into the blue. It's when a man may wander freely down familiar or unfamiliar streets, pausing where he chooses, seeing what he wants, and finally dining in sweet solitude, having the air-conditioning all to himself.

Some evenings, summer television is like a summer city. You can lope along with "The Virginian" if you choose, knowing you've been across this terrain before. Over on "Ben Casey," you realize, that Korean War veteran is still insisting that the good Ben remove the bullet from his leg without benefit of anesthesia; even the title has a warmly familiar cadence to it — "The Sound of One Hand Clapping." You see by the newspaper listing that Dick Van Dyke is again mixed up with show will have Olivia de Havilland (that one?) and that the late cops and robbers (remember land once more choosing spinsters) do a well fortune hunter, Montgomery Clift, in "The Heiress."

ONE CAN BROWSE over such familiar pleasures in an uncommitted way, or one can turn instead to one of the score of seasonal specials, like last Wednesday evening's "The Great Conventions" on CBS-TV. It sailed jauntily through G.O.P. whoops of the past, enjoying itself immensely and stirring the hope that this year's fracas in the Cow Palace will contain some of the excitement of the Dirksen-Dewey exchange in the 1952 Taft - Eisenhower convention or the Willie Stampede of '40. Writer - producer Perry Wolff succeeded nicely with his technique of freezing the action in the old newsreels when he wanted to insert a word of his own.

Half an hour later, on NBC-TV, there was more conventional convention stuff, with a tour of San Francisco thrown in for good measure. (Who prefers watching "The Beverly Hillsbillies" getting into trouble in Los Angeles when one can watch Republicans bumping into each other in San Francisco, instead? Not me.)

LEAVING THE GOLDEN west, we thereupon turned to the nickel-plated wonders of "On Broadway Tonight" and Rudy Vallee presiding over a talent hunt with all the awkward authority of a librarian who has wandered mistakenly into a nudist convention. He was disarmingly good - natured throughout, as a cue was missed for a number of hushed seconds or as Rudy spoke his questions at the precise moments that his guest, Paul Anka, answered them. The young entertainers on hand that night were not wintertime people, exactly, but they were cooling enough for a summer night.

Oh yes, then there came the hilarities of "The Steve Allen Show." Mr. Allen and his wife, Jayne, acted as an electronic receiving line as a long parade of notables showed up at New York's Philharmonic Hall for the premiere of a movie called "The Night of the Iguana." The heat of the evening - 99 degrees - could not fully account for the awful discomfort of the occasion: bubbly entertainers greeting people they were not quite sure they knew, the desperate effusions over a film you felt sure they hated, the fumbling conversations of strangers that were reminiscent of Ira Gershwin's lyrics for "The Babbitt and the Bromide," and the obvious resentment of some guests as the Allens invaded the privacy of their table. It was smashing entertainment all the way.

FINALLY, OVER AT "The Tonight Show Starring Johnny Carson," there sat not Carson but Woody Allen, a funny man with a soft voice and eyes like weak tea and a posture that seems to have been shaped out of pipe cleaners by a maladroit child. He was a great listener while his guests, Allan Sherman and others, held the floor. And there was no cuteness in him - just a warmth and intelligence and a slightly demented wit.

What a nice way to spend a summer evening, now that the big shows are off snoozing under a beach umbrella somewhere!

DIES OF HEART ATTACK

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Mildred Polsfuss, 53, of Toledo collapsed and died of a heart attack after getting off the roller coaster at Cedar Point Tuesday, park authorities reported.

When classes begin Sept. 21, the beginning of the CE classes will mark the start of only the second such course in the state - supported technical schools of Ohio. Lorain Community College is the other.

The director reminded that there is a definite limit to the number of students who may be admitted to the school the coming term. Currently there is still room for 10 students in civil engineering, eight in electrical engineering and six in mechanical engineering.

"Expanding demands in the technical fields make the occupation of technician one of today's most attractive," Cameron said.

PLAN PLANT EXPANSION

ST. MARYS, Ohio (AP) — Work began here today to make the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.'s largest plant even larger. The $1 million expansion is expected to be completed by Jan. 1, 1965.

The go-ahead on construction by the Frank Cedic Co. of Lima came after civic groups raised $23,000 to pay persons who said their business properties would be damaged by the closing of a street to link the old and new plants. The civic organizations decided to raise the money rather than await what might have been lengthy court litigation.

PROVIDES CAMP GRANT

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Halle Memorial Fund of the Cleveland Foundation has provided a $300,000 grant for construction of a 325-acre camp and recreation area northeast of Burton in Geauga County.

The camp site initially will accommodate three activities—a resident camp for children (Camp Wise), a day camp and a gold age camp. Camp Wise now is located in Painesville Twp., but must vacate that site after the 1965 season.

FINDS FATHER'S BODY

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Cincinnati soldier came home on furlough from Ft. Knox, Ky., and found his father's body Tuesday in the older man's apartment. Police said Timothy Hollon, 57, had been dead three to four weeks. They said there was no sign of violence.

Pfc Robert Hollon made the grim discovery after breaking down the door on the fourth-floor apartment where his widowed father had been living alone.

Changes At Tech School Are Made

The Salem School of Technology is undergoing a minor facelift this summer as the administration and workmen ready it for the largest influx of students in its history.

Director Holland Cameron said about 75 new students, plus the 48 returning students, will give a total enrollment of 125 or 50 more than last year.

The addition of the civil engineering course is expected to add 30 alone to the total.

To make more classroom space for lecturing, Salem school maintenance supervisor Dan Papic and his helpers are moving non-permanent metal-glass partitions and making other adjustments to enlarge seating area.

Cameron said the change will result in one additional classroom while another classroom which is partly devoted now to storage will be renovated to enlarge the seating capacity to 25.

Movement of the partition about eight feet increases the size of the mechanical lab - classroom area used by instructor Joseph Wendle but decreases the size of the largest lecture room.

Tentative plans have been made for the use of the high school drafting room and connected shower room, the never-used elevator shaft and a storage closet in the high school for storage or classwork in civil engineering, under the direction of Jim Pandolph.

Changes At Tech School Are Made

The Salem School of Technology is undergoing a minor facelift this summer as the administration and workmen ready it for the largest influx of students in its history.

Director Holland Cameron said about 75 new students, plus the 48 returning students, will give a total enrollment of 125 or 50 more than last year.

The addition of the civil engineering course is expected to add 30 alone to the total.

To make more classroom space for lecturing, Salem school maintenance supervisor Dan Papic and his helpers are moving non-permanent metal-glass partitions and making other adjustments to enlarge seating area.

Cameron said the change will result in one additional classroom while another classroom which is partly devoted now to storage will be renovated to enlarge the seating capacity to 25.

Movement of the partition about eight feet increases the size of the mechanical lab - classroom area used by instructor Joseph Wendle but decreases the size of the largest lecture room.

Tentative plans have been made for the use of the high school drafting room and connected shower room, the never-used elevator shaft and a storage closet in the high school for storage or classwork in civil engineering, under the direction of Jim Pandolph.

When classes begin Sept. 21, the beginning of the CE classes will mark the start of only the second such course in the state - supported technical schools of Ohio. Lorain Community College is the other.

The director reminded that there is a definite limit to the number of students who may be admitted to the school the coming term. Currently there is still room for 10 students in civil engineering, eight in electrical engineering and six in mechanical engineering.

"Expanding demands in the technical fields make the occupation of technician one of today's most attractive," Cameron said.

PLAN PLANT EXPANSION

ST. MARYS, Ohio (AP) — Work began here today to make the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.'s largest plant even larger. The $1 million expansion is expected to be completed by Jan. 1, 1965.

The go-ahead on construction by the Frank Cedic Co. of Lima came after civic groups raised $23,000 to pay persons who said their business properties would be damaged by the closing of a street to link the old and new plants. The civic organizations decided to raise the money rather than await what might have been lengthy court litigation.

PROVIDES CAMP GRANT

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Halle Memorial Fund of the Cleveland Foundation has provided a $300,000 grant for construction of a 325-acre camp and recreation area northeast of Burton in Geauga County.

The camp site initially will accommodate three activities—a resident camp for children (Camp Wise), a day camp and a gold age camp. Camp Wise now is located in Painesville Twp., but must vacate that site after the 1965 season.

FINDS FATHER'S BODY

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Cincinnati soldier came home on furlough from Ft. Knox, Ky., and found his father's body Tuesday in the older man's apartment. Police said Timothy Hollon, 57, had been dead three to four weeks. They said there was no sign of violence.

Pfc Robert Hollon made the grim discovery after breaking down the door on the fourth-floor apartment where his widowed father had been living alone.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

Last week I was down in North Carolina. I had a very nice time. I visited in many homes there. It was interesting to note that the southern people still have some dislike for us northerners as a group but as individuals we can win their friendship and keep it.

One fellow said to another, "Who did your cousin marry?" He said, "Oh she married a Yankee, but he is a regular guy, she did alright."

It isn't a bad idea no matter where we go to have to prove ourselves as an individual.
